

Welcome to the offices of BioSolveIT!

Use private spaces to discuss and network with other participants. Your camera and microphone will appear for all people present in the marked area.

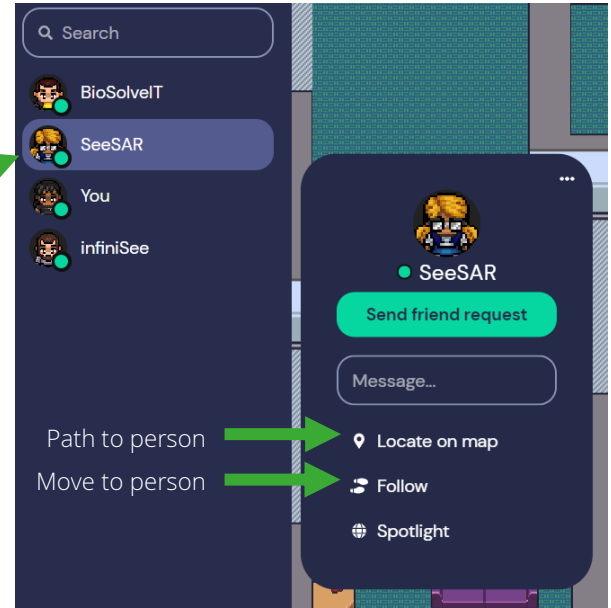

We have prepared several areas in our offices to interconnect and share ideas.

Video chat will start for any encounter if users are close enough

Looking for someone special? You can find participants by clicking the participant button and selecting the person of interest.

If you don't want to use your camera, you can try the chat function!
